"IT DOESN'T MATER WHAT STORY WE'RE TELLING, WE'RE TELLING THE STORY OF FAMILY."

- Erica Lorraine Scheidt

Every family has a story. From the moment you find out you're expecting a baby to the moment you're sending them off to college, or expecting your first grandchild. There are so many moments, milestones and special occasions that make up your story, even the seemingly mundane day-to-day routines. It is my goal to capture those simple yet profound moments and preserve them for years to come. The smiles, the snuggles, the tickles, the whispers and the hand holding. I LOVE photographing families in a relaxed natural environment that allows for honest and real photos. I will get a few photos of everyone looking at the camera, but my main focus is capturing families engaged with each other and the relationship and connections they share. So if you're looking at these photos and they stir some emotion or put a smile on your face, contact me. Let's capture and tell your family's story!

XOXO,
Angie

"Angie is one of the most professional and talented photographers we have met. We instantly connected with her on a friendship level and have used her for all of our photographs since our wedding in 2011. Anyone can take good photos, but her eye and ability to capture the essence of a moment in time is unbelievable." - Stephen & Jenny
